

SUGGESTS THAT THE STATE PROSECUTE FILERS OF SUIT

Red Hot Letter From State Chemist R. E. Rose To the Governor

A DEFENSE OF FLORIDA

Concedes, However, Real Purpose of the Litigation May Have Been Accomplished

(Special to The Herald.)
Tallahassee, Fla., Jan. 23.—Capt. R. E. Rose, state chemist, who is probably the best posted man in Florida on the Everglades drainage work, having been employed years ago by the Disstoners, the first men who attempted drainage in Florida, takes the position that the suit instituted recently against the Internal Improvement Fund trustees libel every administration since the creation of the board, and suggests that the filers of the suit be sued for slander and libel.

He addressed the following letter to Governor Catts, which was given to the press today:

The Rose Letter in Full.
Hon. S. J. Catts, Governor,
Tallahassee, Fla.

Dear Sir:

"I note the institution of proceedings in the United States district court to declare the board of trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund bankrupt and to appoint a receiver for the same; also the comments of Senator Trammell, and his statement of the animus of these parties and the reasons for the suit.

"His statement that 'the charges of fraudulent and illegal actions on the part of the trustees and the drainage board are, in point of fact, absolutely without foundation and are basically false and malicious,' is quite correct.

"No doubt the attorney general will, as in other cases of similar nature, succeed in dismissing this suit. However, the real object of the suit, in my opinion, will have been accomplished, that is to discredit the trustees and prevent the completion of the sale of the $3,500,000 worth of bonds now pending, as has been done by these same parties on previous occasions, when the trustees have secured purchasers for the bonds to provide funds for the rapid completion of the work.

"In my opinion, these efforts are criminal libels and should be so treated, and these slanders of the state and her officers should be indicted from criminal slander and libel and for conspiring to bankrupt a business concern of vast public interest by malicious slander, false representation and libelous public statements as to the financial responsibility and integrity of men entrusted with the administration of a great public trust.

"This effort to bankrupt the fund and secure its assets, canals, dredges, lands and funds has been for years, and is still, the object of these conspirators who have in previous years succeeded in robbing the fund of some 16,000,000 acres of trust lands.

"It is, in my opinion, time for the state, which has been maligned, traduced and her good faith questioned, and published by a United States district court as a party to a fraud and land swindle, without any attempt by her responsible officers to deny or correct the statements made publicly and published to the world, impugning the integrity of the state and the honesty of her people, to actively defend her integrity and to punish these slanders and criminal libelers. The state has, by her silence, implied her guilt and should take active steps to expose and punish these slanders whose object is to prevent the accomplishment of a work of stupendous public interest.

"Very respectfully,

(Signed) "R. E. ROSE,
State chemist."

The mysterious German raider which has sunk or captured some twenty-six vessels of the allied powers in the north and south Atlantic oceans is believed to have left Wilhelmshaven and gone around the north coast of the British Isles. Then she made south and encountered many fine prizes on her way to the south Atlantic. The black line shows the course so far figured out by the British Admiralty, and the shaded portion in the Atlantic indicates the area over which she operated. In this field a dozen or more fast British cruisers are now hunting for the vessel.

Appropriation For Relief of Distress and Educational Purposes Cut To $5,000

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, Jan. 23.—The appropriation in the Indian appropriation bill for relief of distress among the Seminole Indians in Florida and for their civilization and education has been cut by the senate committee from $8,000 to $5,000.

The bill as passed by the house carried $8,000, but when reported to the senate today by the senate committee it had been cut to $5,000.

Senators Fletcher and Bryan will try to have it increased.

ATLANTA POLICEMAN LIES IN HOSPITAL FOR RUBBERNECKING

Atlanta, Ga., January 23.—Lying at Grady hospital with his head split open in half a dozen places, Policeman Vaughn of the Atlanta force has about decided that it would have been better to have deserted his beat and joined the monster throng that gazed in wonderment at Harry Gardner's daring climb on the Fourth National Bank building illuminated by spotlights.

For it so happened that Policeman Vaughn was patrolling a beat near the Fourth National Bank but on the opposite side of the building from where the climb took place, and that is how he came to be waylaid and beaten and disarmed before help arrived.

Colonel R. M. Thompson of the Navy league, will also probably address the gathering on, "Miami as a Naval Station."

The North Miami association last night offered its co-operation to the Parents' association in having the Second street public school enlarged during the coming year. The improvement association was addressed last night by Dr. D. E. O'Kelly, president of the Parents' Association of the Second Street School, with regard to the matter.

Ewin Kelly offered the association a valuable suggestion with regard to the disposal of the city's garbage.

Mr. Kelly said that the refuse should be carried out into the bay on lighters and dumped.

FOR SELLING LIQUOR.

Obediah Johnson, a negro, was arrested by the police yesterday on a charge of selling liquor unlawfully. The negro will be given a hearing in the police court today.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR BANQUET NORTH MIAMI

Will Occur January 30—Many Tickets Sold—Association Meeting Last Night

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, Jan. 23.—The annual banquet in the Indian appropriation bill for relief of distress among the Seminole Indians in Florida and for their civilization and education has been cut by the senate committee from $8,000 to $5,000.

The bill as passed by the house carried $8,000, but when reported to the senate today by the senate committee it had been cut to $5,000.

SUIT BY DAUGHTER OF JUDGE CARTER AGAINST STATE SUPERINTENDENT SHEATS

(Special to The Herald.)

Tallahassee, Jan. 23.—Judge Francis B. Carter of Pensacola was here today and argued the case before the supreme court of his daughter Helen vs. W. N. Sheats, superintendent of public instruction. The case was taken under advisement and a decision will be rendered later. She is a graduate of the state college for women and under act of the legislature is entitled, she claims, to a state certificate, but Supt. Sheats refuses to sign a certificate. The case was brought to test the law. Sheats appeared for himself before the court.

Senate Democrats Called Together Thursday Night For That Ideas

WILSON'S PEACE IDEAS

Are To Be Discussed Today and Week of Debate May Follow

Washington, Jan. 23.—A caucus of senate democrats is called for Thursday night to determine what legislation to take up the remainder of the session. Effort will be made to get action on railroad, labor, corrupt practices, the Webb bill to permit collective foreign selling agencies for domestic corporations, flood control measure, land and mineral conservation. Recommendations of the steering committee to put forward the water conservation measure and Puerto Rican citizenship were ignored. The program may be changed. The strike and lockout bill up before the commerce committee was called by Senator Newlands tonight.

Will Discuss Peace.

An opportunity for open discussion of the president's peace address will come in the senate tomorrow through consideration of the Cubbins resolution proposing that next week be set aside for full debate of the subject. Whatever is done with the resolution there doubtless will be many speeches favorable and unfavorable. As far as another step for peace is concerned, the president feels nothing can be done at this time. It is authoritatively stated Germany has not furnished the president with its peace terms.

"Bone Dry" Legislation.

The house territories committee reported favorably "bone dry" legislation for both Alaska and Hawaii. The Hawaiian bill was taken up and the main features of the Alaskan bill were written into it after the committee had eliminated provisions that would make prohibition dependent upon petitions.

Donald Nomination.

The nomination of John A. Donald of New York as member of the federal shipping board was confirmed by the senate today. Progressive republicans and some democrats held up the nomination when four others were confirmed last week.

The Revenue Bill.

Democrats of the house ways and means committee today approved the draft of the revenue bill and will caucus on the bill Thursday. It provides an increase of inheritance tax and the Panama bond issue.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE.

Two automobiles came together in a collision on avenue D near Fourteenth street, yesterday afternoon, when both machines were slightly damaged but no one was injured.

Dr. George H. Benton and Mrs. Benton were coming south on avenue D, in their Overland roadster, when the hub of the car struck a Maxwell machine belonging to C. M. Cravatt, who was at the wheel.

Dr. Benton turned to avoid striking a wagon which crossed immediately in front of his machine, and in doing so struck the other car a glancing blow that threw the physician's car to the side of tenth street.

Congressman Sparkman, Who Soon Takes His Departure From Official Life

LARGE APPROPRIATION

For Harbor of Tampa Bay Provided By Rivers and Harbors Committee

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, Jan. 23.—The house of representatives by unanimous vote this afternoon, and over the objection of Congressman Sparkman, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, increased the appropriation for Tampa bay so as to appropriate at once $1,135,000 to complete the improvement of the harbor at Tampa, Mr. Sparkman's home.

The amendment was offered by Congressman Treadway of Massachusetts, a republican, when the Tampa item was reported in the bill. The bill provided $60,000 for maintenance and $390,000 for improvement of Tampa bay and channels.

In offering his amendment, Congressman Treadway spoke of the meritorious service Mr. Sparkman had rendered for many years as chairman of the committee, of the high regard in which he is held by his colleagues and of their great regret that he retires with this session of congress, and said it would be but a small token of gratitude and appreciation of his great efforts to appropriate in this bill, at one stroke, money to finish the improvement of the waterways of his home town.

Mr. Sparkman, expressing his appreciation of the kindness of his colleagues, said that as chairman of the committee he must object, as it was against the principle of the committee to appropriate more than one year ahead.

Many republicans, including Congressman Frear, who has made a consistent and vicious attack on every item of the bill, spoke in favor of the amendment, and it was passed unanimously. It is the only amendment made to the bill, and probably will be the only one.

FLORIDA RAILROADS RESPONSIBLE FOR MOST DEVELOPMENT

Jacksonville, Jan. 22.—The railroads of Florida were declared to be the most potent factors in the state's development by both W. L. Stanley, assistant to the president of the Seaboard Air Line railway, and Herbert J. Drane, congressman-elect from the first district, before a large assemblage in attendance upon the annual banquet of the Traffic club, which took place in the club rooms on the tenth floor of the Hotel Mason.

Mr. Stanley, in opening his address, repeated Mr. Drane's assertion that the "railroads of the country have been the most potent factor in the advancement of civilization." His subject was Florida and its railroads, and he went into the development of the transportation business thoroughly, giving statistics to show the remarkable achievements which have been made during the past fifty years. He declared that Florida today has 4,690 miles of railroads, with more mileage to the population and square mile than any other state in the union.

He paid tribute to such men as Plant, Flagler, Duval and Denham, of whom he said:

"I dare say that the day will come when the citizens of Florida will erect monuments to the memory of these men."

PASSAGE IN THE CANAL.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Armed merchant ships seeking passage through the Panama canal would be accorded the same treatment as other merchantmen if the governor of the canal is satisfied arms are solely for defense, the war department advised today. Application of a Japanese vessel raised the question.

Two German Attacks On the Russian Front Reported As Repulsed

Washington, Jan. 23.—For the first time today officials admitted that the withdrawal of outposts from El Valle and other points of Colonia Dublin is being carried out by orders from Washington. The troop movements are preliminary to withdrawal of the expedition in the southern extremity of the American line under war department orders.

SOON EXPECT ORDERS.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 23.—Army officers predict a formal order from the war department within forty-eight hours for the withdrawal of troops from Mexico. The first troops of American outposts to rejoin field headquarters in preparation for withdrawal to the United States reached Colonia Dublin today.

MOTOR TRUCKS BUSY.

An army officer reported today four hundred motor trucks now operating hauling surplus camp equipment between the field base at Columbia, N. M., and El Valle. Wagons trains are concentrated at Colonia Dublin, and general concentration of men at field headquarters there is in progress.

All sick soldiers at Colonia Dublin were sent to the border today. Four hundred motor trucks are running from headquarters to the border bearing supplies which are being stored in big tents at Columbus.

Threat of Congress Results In Production of the Records of the Brokers

New York, Jan. 23.—Confronted by a threat of the house rules committee in charge of the lead investigation to force the production of brokers' records if they are not produced voluntarily, the governors of the New York stock exchange tonight requested the exchange members to produce all available records from December 10 to 23. The board told the committee today that the committee's original request for records was postponed and the threat followed.

H. G. Noble, president of the stock exchange, in telling the committee of the failure to comply with the committee's original request said that it would work a hardship on many brokers "who were not mixed up in the matter," and the board was in doubt as to its ability to compel members of the exchange to produce the records. Both Chairman Henry and Sherman Whipple, special counsel, explained it was not the committee's desire to make public the names of anyone not connected with the alleged leak transactions.

TOO MUCH SPECULATION.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The protective branch lumber business has been interlocked too largely with speculation, declares the forest service statement, concurred in by the federal trade commission, tonight. The report summarizes the survey industry by both bodies and pleads for complete re-alignment of industry. It condemns agitation for industrial combinations for regulating production prices as leading to restraint of trade.

Charged with a serious offense, a man who says he is Ozinseppe La-rocca was locked up in the county jail last night, and had it not been for the timely action of Lieutenant Shields, who took the man into custody, he would probably have been roughly dealt with by several men who were familiar with the man's actions towards a little girl in the northwestern section of the city yesterday.

BY THESE BUCKEYES

Six new comers from Akron, Ohio, are guests at the home of J. K. Williams, of Point View, a former resident of that city, and are having the "time of their lives" with fishing and boating as the principal diversions.

They are, S. S. Miller, factory manager for the Moline Rubber Company, of Akron; M. S. Long, vice president of the Portage Rubber Company of Akron; N. O. Mather, attorney at law; E. E. McGalliard, sales manager of the Jamestown Worsted Mills, of Akron; J. A. H. Myers, attorney at law; J. M. Rowley, treasurer of the Akron Coal Company.

Mr. Williams has organized two fishing parties for today, to be composed of half a dozen men each, one group on his power boat Audria and the other on the power boat Nemo.

Suitable prizes have been prepared for the fishermen landing the largest, smallest and the most fish, and to the group making the biggest catch a proper award will be given. The fishing expenditure will be followed by a dinner at the Sunshine Inn.

Aboard the Audria will be J. K. Williams, S. S. Miller, J. A. H. Myers, N. O. Mather, H. S. Firestone and T. R. Washburn; the Nemo's party will consist of M. F. Anderson, J. M. Rowley, E. E. McGalliard, F. C. Kelley, L. A. Carpenter and M. S. Long.

Charming Dance Last Night In Honor of Miss Tatum And Her Guest, Miss Lewis

Quite the most charming dance that Miami has seen for long was that given last night at the Miami Beach Casino by Mr. and Mrs. Bethel Blanton Tatum in honor of Miss Jane Tatum and her guest, Miss Frances Lewis.

The dancing floor of the casino had been converted into a bower of greenery with twists and loops and garlands from the roof and over all the pillars and massed in the corners, of the lovely Southern myrtle, whose dull tones provided the most perfect background possible for the tints and hues of gowns. From the ceiling also huge pale silk Japanese lanterns swing just low enough, while in the very center of the floor a tiny fountain caught the colored light with its leaping spray. The orchestra was grouped in a canopied platform at one end, while all around the dance floor that tiny little white supper tables waited until the dancing was over.

The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Tatum, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Sewell, Miss Jane Tatum and Miss Frances Lewis. Miss Tatum's gown was of the—the—apparently—simplest Mrs. Julian Dell has arrived from Panama City, Fla., for a visit with her mother, Mrs. J. B. Evans.

The Miami Temple, Pythian Sisters, will meet on Friday evening in Castle Hall at seven-thirty for a regular meeting which will be followed by a dance.

Mrs. Robert Reimert entertained at tea yesterday afternoon delightfully at the Dallas Lodge Tea Shop. Her guests, who so much enjoyed the charm of the quaint browns and blues of Mrs. Brett's cosy room were Miss Annabelle McGill and Miss St. Albans.

The gowns of the other guests formed the most exquisite, ever-changing color combinations against the dull greens, Crocus yellows, pale gray, old rose, moss greens, pinks, pale blues, lavenders, with here and there a mark of black, in silks and tulles and silver and gold cloth with leaping spray. CONCERNING TRADE ROUTES

It seems a great pity to add anything to the accumulation of writings on the subject of the war. The only possible excuse would be the desire to emphasize a phase not enough recognized in the present multitudinous and slightly platiudinous volumes of all sorts of expressions on the subject.

The phase which will bear repetition is this. One of the main factors in bringing on the war was the desire for the possession not just of places or even just of sea ports. More important to a nation growing rapidly from within, desiring more trade to nourish the growing life, must be the great routes of the world which extend not just to possessions but to opportunities for trade.

The two great trade routes of the eastern hemisphere are, first, the Mediterranean, the Suez canal and the Red sea, and the second, the overland route, the one used from the time of Zenophen and Alexander, over Mesopotamia from Constantinople to the Persian gulf. The importance of this latter has been of recent years fully recognized only by the Germans. England long ago concentrated on the Suez and under the leadership of Disraeli bought it from under the nose of Russia. Both nations realized that whoever controlled the Suez controlled India.

Thus we have no two parallel trade routes possible. Note the demands of the Entente and the Central allies. Germany must have Poland, the Balkan states and Mesopotamia, the buffer states to the overland route from the Persian gulf to Berlin. The Allies must have Constantinople and Mesopotamia also. They realize that the Suez canal route's usefulness is cut in half if Germany holds the parallel passage. The result for the world, either way the war ends, will be the same. The trade route will be in the hands of a combination in restraint of world trade.

America may stand aloof politically. She can never stand aloof commercially and industrially. Since Magellan proved the world was round by sailing around it, her trade will follow the world paths and the great trade routes. She may have no imperialist policy. She may never become aggressive. But so surely as the Constantinople-Persian gulf route is in the hands of any one combination in restraint of trade, there will be trouble.

Let America, when the time comes, stand for something more than the political settlement of war's aftermaths. Let these coming commercial questions have their place. Let America add her voice to it that these great routes be made as nearly as possible free and international. Only then can she be assured of a lasting commercial peace.

JAILS AND EDUCATION

The impression is easily gathered, after listening to any conversation on the matter that few people have ever realized prison conditions until they heard of the reform work of Thomas Mott Osborne at Sing Sing and since it was reform work they say, "But of course none of those dreadful conditions exist now since they have been all reformed."

But like the good lady on the piazza the other day who held all prisoners in western prisons to be treated like gentlemen because they heard a band play twice a month, these people are not taking the trouble to look or think further.

The following paragraph from the report of an Illinois state official on prison conditions, not to come nearer home than Illinois, reads like Dostoevsky, but is America.

"Nineteen of Chicago's forty-six jails are underground, and through eleven run open sewers. In one jail, the men, the women, the insane, and the prisoners food are held in one row and the sewer runs the length of the row. When the sewers overflow, the floors are flooded. Rats and vermin are numerous. The men sleep on planks. If there are more than two men in a cell they must lie on the floor beside the open sewer. Sometimes eight or ten are put in the same small cell." According to the same report, the county jails throughout Illinois are equally well adapted for making great criminals out of little ones. They are dark, damp, ill smelling caves, too small for any separation of the different classes of prisoners. As an inevitable result, the jail becomes the feeder for the penitentiary.

But not only Illinois is guilty. The state of county jails throughout the nation has warranted Amos Butler, former president of the American Prison Association, in saying: "We seem to have dedicated one institution in every county to the propagation of idleness, viciousness, and crime."

The women of the south are again proving that they are as alert as their western sisters. A bill giving partial suffrage to the women of Tennessee has passed its second reading in the state legislature. The suffrage forces in Tennessee have been finely organized and have carried on a noteworthy campaign. The passing of the bill will be the first break in Southern suffrage conservatism. Florida should follow the example of her northern sister.

It won't be long now to the happy days when Miami people will be able to kick about the crowded condition of the street cars.

POSTMEN AND PRESIDENTS

And now certain scientists and stockmen are rising up, quite solemnly, to tell us that future generations should be bred solely for their work in life. The man who is to work with his muscles is to have these especially developed through heredity. Anyone's efficiency, they hold, will be determined long before he is born by the physical conditions of his parents and his grandparents.

This is really delightful because it is so simple. One's grandparents, for example, decide it would be charming to have a postman in the family. Careful selection for strength of leg muscles and of lungs are necessary for this position. The latter are for the whistle, of course. And one is no sooner born than the strength of both make themselves evident and one's grandparents murmur proudly, "Just as we planned."

But suppose after one grows up and is on the eve of one's Civil Service examinations for the postal blue uniform, the examinations consisting largely of examinations into one's pedigree which is as important as that of a race horse, one suddenly decides that one does not care to be a postman and that one immensely prefers being a bank president. Such a disaster. For a bank president, one may readily see, has no use for strong leg muscles since he does nothing but sit at a long table and sign checks. And one's writing muscles for this later have been sacrificed by one's greedy grandparents whose insatiable ambition for the postal department have thus irrevocably doomed one.

That complication, of course, might have been avoided if the muscles of ambition, the bones of energy and the tissues of individuality could have been omitted.

But fortunately or unfortunately for us, these things cannot be done. We cannot be bred to certain purposes like dray horses or milch cows for the simple reason that we have other purposes before us beside the actual labor of bricklaying or plumbing or printing a newspaper. Men is his own greatest work. And the man who is a success simply because his ancestors were able to make him so, has little to be congratulated upon.

The reductio ad absurdum for the breeding argument of the physiots shows plainly, therefore, where the fault lies with much of our modern pseudo-scientific reasoning. Because the muscles are firm, the organs sound, the whole man healthy, it does not follow that he is a better man than his neighbor who has rheumatism.

As Walt Whitman said, "All of me is not contained between my hat and my boots."

And it is this other part, not confinable by things like hats and boots that our stock breeders have forgotten when they urge us to plan for muscles when we desire better men.

WILLIAM DE MORGAN

On January 15 in Chelsea, England, William De Morgan, author, died. And William De Morgan, dead at seventy-eight years, is a living example that the world is no more all to the young than it has ever been before.

He never wrote a line until he was sixty-five years old. From that time until he died he made himself rich with a series of novels which, while not ranking among the greatest of English literature, take their places with much that will live and have meaning for many years.

"Joseph Vance," Mr. De Morgan's first novel, was hailed by the critics as a return to the style of Thackeray and of Dickens and it was prophesied then that they would not be a success because, it was felt, no one read Thackeray and Dickens any more. But the great vogue not only of that richly mellow first novel of his, but the quiet charm and deft characterizations of his later books, "Alice-For-Short," "Somehow Good," "It Never Can Happen Again," proved that the world still cares for the things that made Dickens and Thackeray living literature. And, better still, that it has time to stop and enjoy the mellow thought and calm saneness of a busy man in his later and leisure years.

De Morgan did not, as a matter of fact, copy Dickens, as he has been accused. Study will show that he is radically different from Dickens. The mere fact that his books are long and that he has taken time for details is no proof of this. Where Dickens was young and vivid and exuberant, De Morgan is merely pleasant and charming and graceful. Where Dickens is harsh, he is tolerant, where Dickens is tragic, De Morgan merely smiles pityingly. But the love of humanity in each is the same.

Mr. De Morgan's life was a long and busy one, with its finest work at the close and climax, as a man who has worthily lived would wish it. The news of his death should cause us to blow the dust from the top of our "Joseph Vance" if only to read his wise and sound opinions on immorality and on death.

THE APRIL MEMORIAL CONCERT

Advertisements are now appearing in several New York papers to interest all singers in the preparations for the extraordinary performance of the Berlioz Requiem which will be sung in New York city next April as a Memorial to the Soldiers of All Nations Who Have Died in the European War.

If this remarkable memorial performance is carried out as the committee of prominent citizens are now planning, it will be a most unique occurrence. Probably never before in history has such a thing been possible. The descendants and relatives of all the warring countries will meet together during the course of the war to celebrate their common dead. This is possible only in America. It brings out again sharply the memory of the purpose of our country as a place for all people to join in freedom for the glorifying of the ideals of peace and justice, not slighting of old traditions but recognizing our common humanity. Peace was to have come that way. And while it is foolish to believe that peace can be brought about by singing the recognition of that death that waits us all and before whom there is no nationality, may be made one of the most potent factors in welding anew the hearts of those who have lost in this present war, no matter on what front or under what banner. A little thing, perhaps, but a revelation of the work that America yet may do.

They say its Buffalo next for Billy Sunday. Some of our good prohibition friends ought to work for legislation to prohibit the Sunday religious cocktail which seems to produce the usual hangover, according to all accounts.

Apparently to the Germans the Allies struck the wrong note.

The Miami Herald tells of the awarding of a contract for the construction of a large mercantile building on Tenth and Eleventh streets in Miami. The building, according to the Herald's report, will be two hundred feet long, reaching from one street through to the next. The owner will use the whole place as a hardware, saddlery and wagon store. A part of the building will be two stories high and it is expected to cost $20,000. The particular point about the announcement in the Herald is that Miami furnishes an item of this kind almost every day. The Herald, just printing the news, gives the Magic City a "boost" half a dozen times a week.

Mother Earth keeps carefully concealed in her bosom the rich metal which weighs all material values in man's trade with man—gold. He who secured the virgin gold from its hiding place must fight against obstacles that daunt all except the most hardy and determined fortune-winner. He must delve or blast his way deep in the sand, clay and rock; face rigors of winter, or floods in the lowlands, or thirst in the desert.

Not so with Florida's golden globes—it's great citrus crop which brings to the state the minted gold. Nature shows it in the open, between Earth and Heaven, flaunting the golden tints in the equally golden sunshine of Florida's perfect winter days. It is within reach of man's hand; his for picking. Mother Earth is ready to increase the yield of gold at his bidding; the warm sunshine and gentle rains assist and the coming breezes waft through the glossy-green foliage and the white-petaled blossoms to convey their pleasing fragrance.

No, we do not mean to say that Florida's citrus fruits may be produced without effort; but with ordinary, intelligent effort given the reward is certain and abundant.

NATIONAL PRESS

New York World.

President Wilson can hardly be astonished at either the criticism or the appointment of Dr. Cary T. Grayson to be Medical Director of the Navy with the rank of Rear Admiral. More than anybody else, the president should have foreseen it, and more than any other president of this generation he is deserving of censure for such an exhibition of personal favoritism.

When that sort of thing happened under Theodore Roosevelt it was accepted more or less as a matter of course. The Roosevelt government was personal government. The White House in his time resembled nothing else so much as a third-rate German court in the middle of the nineteenth century. The stench of favoritism hung over every department, and the anteroom of the White House was packed with courtiers waiting for their rewards regardless of their merits.

Woodrow Wilson is a different type of president. Long before he became active in politics he had achieved reputation as a historian, and he entered the White House as one of the most profound students of government of modern times, in short, an authority on the art of government. To Mr. Roosevelt the presidency was a plaything, a toy to be used for his amusement and delight, but that has never been the Wilson attitude toward government. In consequence when the president uses his power as he has done in the Grayson case, the country is shocked, and it ought to be shocked, too, when he considers the consequence of his act. The president has spoken many times of his passion for justice. But he himself must admit that there is no justice in promoting Dr. Grayson over the heads of 114 other members of the Medical Corps. He himself must see that the bitter resentment aroused in the service by this personal favoritism is only a manifestation of that spirit which he exalted when he said: "Has not justice always come from the press of the heart and the spirit of men who resist power?" Of all presidents of the United States since Abraham Lincoln, Woodrow Wilson is the one who would least be expected to use his power to inflict injustice upon any group of men in order to advance somebody whose claims were personal.

The Grayson nomination is his first deviation from the principles to which he has so tenaciously adhered and which have been one of the noblest attributes of his administration. The World cannot believe that Mr. Wilson had given careful consideration to all the aspects of the Grayson appointment when he made it. He acted impulsively in a spirit of generous friendship, but it is a generous friendship that can only demoralize the navy, as the president himself must now perceive.

OBITUARY

Funeral of E. Ford Wells.

Funeral services over the remains of the late E. Ford Wells, who died suddenly at his home, in Riverside, on Monday, will take place this afternoon and the interment will be in Woodlawn Park cemetery, where the services will be held.

The funeral cortège will leave the home of S. T. Wiggin, 907 Twelfth street, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and will proceed to the cemetery where the services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. L. White, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member.

During the services the church choir will render several selections. Mr. Wells had, for a long time, been a deacon of the church and the members of the board of deacons will attend the funeral in a body. The pall-bearers are requested to meet at the Wiggin home promptly at 2:30 o'clock to accompany the funeral party to the cemetery.

Funeral of Charles Beckwith.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Charles E. Beckwith, who died in the city last Wednesday, will be held at the Combs' funeral chapel at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon and the body will be placed in a receiving vault until shipped north for interment. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. W. Faris, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Funeral of Robert Welborn.

The funeral of the late Robert Welborn, whose death was mentioned in yesterday's Herald, will take place from the undertaking parlor of the W. H. Combs Company, Tenth street and avenue C, at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and will be under the auspices of Bay Biscayne Lodge No. 124 F. & A. M., of which the deceased was a member. The interment will take place in the city cemetery.

Masonic Honors for Phillip Fosdick. Brief Masonic funeral services were held over the remains of the late Phillip Fosdick, just prior to the departure of the 7:50 train for the north last night. The services were conducted by Miami Lodge No. 223 of which H. E. Overstreet is the Worshipful Master.

The local Masons met in the lodge rooms in Masonic Hall, on Thirteenth street and marched in a body to the funeral chapel of H. M. King, where the services were held.

In attendance at the services were many friends of the deceased who reside in Cincinnati. The body was placed in a gray broadcloth孝服casket with antique silver finish.

After the service the members of Miami lodge acted as an escort from the funeral hall to the denot where the body was expressed to the late home of the deceased in Cincinnati and will arrive there late Thursday afternoon. The widow and two daughters of the deceased accompanied the body. A son of Mr. Fosdick will point the party in Jacksonville.

In all probability the funeral will occur in Cincinnati on Saturday and will be conducted by Avon Lodge No. 542, F. & A. M., of that city with which lodge Mr. Fosdick had for many years, been affiliated. The funeral will take place from Scottish Rite Cathedral.

A large floral wreath, a gift from Miami lodge, was placed on the casket and sent with the body.

AMUSEMENTS

A Genteel Minstrel.

To many who know Charley Gano the principal comedian and amusement producer with J. A. Coburn's Greater Minstrels it has been a source of comment to find a quiet jovial wholly agreeable business man of smiling courteous manner and gentlemanly address. For years the words "minstrel man" and "show folks" conveyed an impression of coarse loud talking, hard drinking specimens of humanity, very amusing behind the footlights, but to be avoided in private life. Unfortunately in the past some individuals merited such opinion. But conditions, ideas, methods and people change with the times and among them all it would be hard to find a more unobtrusive gentlemanly appearing chap than this same Charlie of the Fun Folks in any line of business. In fact Manager Joe Coburn is as proud of the genteel quality and appearance of his company off the stage as of their ability on, and quickly eliminates any exception to this rule. Mr. Gano has surpassed all his former efforts in this season's Millionaire Hunt Club in India, as well as the comedy numbers and topical farce which closes the big show "Darktown Preparedness Recruits" which is a hit and a scream. Don't miss them at the Strand Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 29-30. Matinee daily.

At Paramount Today.

Emily Stevens, famous as a stage and screen star, will be seen at the Paramount theatre today in a new Metro wonderplay of business life and the underworld called "The Wager." Written especially for Miss Stevens, "The Wager" gives this great actress unusual opportunities to show her fine emotional powers. It deals with bet made by business men and a police official that one of them, a jeweler, can be victimized of jewels worth $5,000. "Diamond Daisy" Doyle (Miss Stevens) is called in by the police official to help him win the money.

Then follow a series of dramatic situations that are unique in motion pictures. The self-sacrificing spirit of Daisy Doyle, her great love for a man who is bounded by the police; the efforts of an energetic detective to put Daisy in prison despite her reformation are some of the absorbing features of the masterpiece.

HIPPODROME TODAY.

If a woman has won a place in the business or professional world does her marriage mean that she must necessarily relinquish it to become mistress of her household? That is the question raised in "The Weaker Sex," Triangle play, which has Dorothy Dalton, Charles Ray and Louise Glauum as a tri-star combination. The play answers the question, and the answer, it is said, will prove satisfactory to most of the women who see the picture at the Hippodrome today.

"We Need A Thousand More"
Says Official of Chamber of Commerce

HOMES FOR EVERYBODY OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Customary Miami Spirit Will Guarantee Comfort For All
Tourists Who Come

"We need one thousand more rooms," John L. Pepper, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declared yesterday afternoon when asked about the situation at the Chamber of Commerce information bureau relative to applications for rooms and the supply with which to meet the demand.

Mr. Pepper, who has kept in close touch with this department of Chamber of Commerce work, insisted that there are over a thousand rooms in Miami that could easily be utilized for housing tourists during the current season, if the owners will only co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce.

"The rooms are here," he declared, "and in time people will find them, but if the householders would only help us systematize the work it would be so much easier and quicker, and much less trouble for everyone concerned."

This view of the situation was borne out by Secretary Livingston, who has been forced to lay aside other work and give his assistance to the information department.

Yesterday the entire force of four persons employed by the Chamber of Commerce gave practically all of their time to seeking rooms for recent arrivals, who thronged the Chamber from early until late.

Managing Secretary Livingston admits this is the greatest season by far that the city has ever experienced, but insists that there is no need for any person to leave Miami because of failure to find suitable accommodations.

"But I wish to reiterate," he asserted, "what I have several times said. We must have the co-operation of the people. It is the duty of every man, woman and child in Miami to help receive and entertain our visitors."

He added that the Chamber of Commerce has issued invitations to the people of the frigid north through the first line west of West Palm Beach into Lake Okeechobee, was given most interestingly with the aid of slides by George B. Hills of Jacksonville.

Yesterday Afternoon.

The afternoon session was held in the auditorium of the court house and was commenced by a long and able address on the whole question of Everglades drainage by F. C. Elliott, chief drainage engineer.

Some of the defects of the present law, with reference to the formation of drainage districts were pointed out by H. S. Fairchild of West Palm Beach.

Resolutions instructing the legislative committee to seek to secure proper legislation relating to a different method of collecting the taxes in drainage districts on state owned lands, asking that the legislature make appropriation to assist in the work of the association, asking the legislature to memorialize congress on the subject of taxes of government owned lands, and another thanking the ladies of West Palm Beach for their assistance in making the banquet a pleasant one, the Board of Trade of West Palm Beach and all who had in any way contributed to the success of the meeting were passed.

(Special to The Herald.)
Princeton, Jan. 23.—The South Dade County Union Epworth League meeting was held in the M. E. church on Sunday night at 7 p. m., the first vice-president, Miss Axah McSweeney, having charge. Two songs were sung by the congregation and scripture on the topic, "Star Christians," was read. Mr. Carlin offered prayer.

Geo. Fletcher of Silver Palm delivered an address. He said it was easy to do right right on Sunday but during the heat of the sun, and the many cares during the week was the time to test whether Christ's spirit helped. He said: "If I want my boy to go to league, I'll go with him. Let's save the people and try and lead them into higher life. The cigarette fiends we can't do much with but we can save the young people. That is league work."

Mr. Deacon of Florida City dwelt at length on shining for Christ and said: "We live to shine and shine to live." His talk was instructive and helpful.

Mrs. W. M. Cawley sang a solo with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Moody of Naranga. It was a beautiful selection.

Mr. Carlin then gave a talk on "What a Star Christian Is." He said: "There is so much work done in the church, and is it worth while? What is the church worth to a community? Does it help? Would we want to live where there were no churches? What would a town be worth without a church in it? It influences people toward better living. It is hard work to get people into the church unless we know how. I tried to catch fish from the water one time. I got some good, tackle and tried and tried but they would not bite. I could see them and there were a lot of them. Then I found out they were all mullet." He applied this story to Christian effort.

Mr. Huffman of Florida City sang a solo and was applauded.

Miss Millie Robinson was called to fill a vacancy in the program, which she did in an able manner. She said the people had to have God's spirit in the heart before they could shine and better others.

Mr. Carlin gave an altar call and many gathered at the altar for prayer. The meeting closed with benediction.

The cabinet met and decided to have the first vice-president of each league select three people from their own league to appear on the program at the next meeting time, the date not being decided on.

Notice to each vice-president will be given by the corresponding secretary when the topic is printed.

MRS. DIBBLE,
Corresponding secretary.

REILLY MAKES RECORD AS CHAMPION FLY CATCHER

Mark Twain is credited with saying that "pigs is pigs" and so it may not be counted as plagiarism to say that "pets is pets," and many folks have a liking for all kinds of funny things, and they credit them with all the intelligence given to man, but since the arrival of "Henry," man must perform sit back and bow down.

"Henry" is a wonder among his tribe, herd, or class, whatever the proper definition may be. Indeed he is more than human. Witness his name.

Gus Reilly, chief cook and bottle washer, also some vendor of soft liquid refreshments in the Royal Palm grill is "Henry's" master, and "Henry" is one of those troublesome members of the lizard tribe which infest this section of Florida and make a nuisance of themselves. Still "Henry" lives.

Speaking casually, one would hardly dream of making a pet of a chameleon and to call one by name and expect it to respond, appears to be beyond the bounds of possibility, yet when Gus Reilly goes to a window which opens out onto a lawn where "Henry" has selected a home and whistles, "Henry" wiggles out of his den and comes forth to gratefully receive the dead flies which Reilly has spent the day in killing.

"Henry's" taste has been spoiled, for he scorns the choicest delicacies which are a luxury in the reptile world and refuses to eat anything but flies, and Reilly, since his adoption of "Henry" as his especial pet has developed into a wonderful fly catcher.

MOTHER TELLS HOW VINOL

Made Her Delicate Boy Strong
New York City.—"My little boy was in a very weak, delicate condition as a result of gastritis and the measles and there seemed no hope of saving his life. The doctor prescribed cod liver oil but he could not take it. I decided to try Vinol—and with splendid results. It seemed to agree with him so that now he is a strong healthy boy"—Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald, 1090 Park Avenue, N. Y. City.

We guarantee Vinol, which contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron, managanes peptonates and glycerophosphates, for run-down conditions, chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis.

STATE BOOST FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS FEBRUARY ELEVENTH

From the office of the Florida Sunday School Association, Jacksonville, comes the news that there is much enthusiasm and unusual preparations are being made over the state for the second annual Florida "Go-to-Sunday-School Day" which is to be observed on February 11th. This is state wide interdenominational movement which was put on by the Florida Sunday School Association, first on October 3rd, 1915.

The object of the day is, first, to get a record breaking attendance in all Sunday schools. Second, to make the day so attractive that those who will attend become regular members. Third, to give a state wide vision of Sunday school work and what is being done by the Florida Sunday School Association, which is a co-operative movement for more and better Sunday schools backed by leaders of the various denominations.

Programs for the day which are being sent out free from the office of the State Association, not only provide for the study of the regular lesson for the day, but by using appropriate music and responsive readings takes the school through a drill on Sunday school work. Reports from the Sunday schools that observed the day in October, 1915 indicated that many thousands attended the schools that day who had not attended before. This year the goal is 40,000 new pupils. Orders for programs coming to the state office show that hundreds of schools are striving for a 50 per cent increase. In Jacksonville the campaign for 5,000 men goes merrily on, and indications are that February 11th will be a great day in the metropolis.

Dr. Hagen Burger has resumed practice.

The Truth About Moore Haven

The developers of the Moore Haven country have enjoyed the wonderful success already attained, to a large degree, as a result of the fact that it is only necessary to state FUNDAMENTAL TRUTHS to convince any one who is looking for a real farming proposition or a real investment.

It Is a Truth That Alfalfa

grows prolifically at Moore Haven. Several STOCKMEN who have seen the samples in our windows at 210 Twelfth Street have sincerely doubted the possibility of growing alfalfa in Florida, and moreover stated that if it was a fact that it would grow at Moore Haven then our lands are being sold too cheap, but they saw it growing, and they realized that they had found the most wonderful Live Stock Country in the world.

That It Is Hard to Tell the Whole Truth about this wonderful country is evidenced by the fact that in every case when we have had the pleasure of telling our friends what they may expect to see when they go there, they come back to say, and to say emphatically that we had not told the half. Some will not believe that in one short year there has been such a remarkable development accomplished there and when they see it all the TRUTH SINKS IN, and they see the remarkable potato acreages making fortunes for those who had the foresight to invest in soil that would do so much for them, in the way of returns.

We Are Telling You Today That the Railway is Coming and coming fast. The contract has been let for the final stretch into Moore Haven, and the contractor's men are there now, having come in over the survey of the Atlantic Coast Railway Engineers.

You Know What the Soil, Climate and Natural Transportation has accomplished for Moore Haven, and now you are able to have positive, truthful, information regarding the one great cause of increased values in Moore Haven property in the immediate future. Did you ever have such a sure opportunity of profitable investment as this—where the advance in prices are so certain, based on such definite facts, that it is not a mere speculation, but rather

Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation; Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company; William E. Corey, president of the Midvale Steel Company, and Herbert Du Puy, acting president of the Crucible Steel Company of America, headed the great American steel manufacturers whose prices on shells for the navy's 14-inch and 16-inch guns were so high that Secretary Daniels gave the contract to a British firm. He said the American prices were $144 higher on each 14-inch, and $237 higher on each 16-inch shell than the bid of the Hadfields of England, and the other day the contract was awarded the Britons.

JIM.

When Jim grows up, their little Jim, If his mind grows as it grows now, I wonder what they'll make of him, He's got a thinkin' dome and brow, And he will fill some man-sized job, Whichever way achievement leans; He smiles and says, "Um-gubble-woh!" And his ma knows just what he means.

Jim is some boy! he plays all day Content as any boy can be, And never has a word to say That ain't important. You can see He's thinking when he gives a look At the food that is on his plate, And smiles and says: "Un-guggle-gook" And then his dad says, "Ain't that great!"

He walks across the room and stands Beside the window looking out And clasps his little baby hands, And you don't know what it's about, Until he looks round at the crowd, And you can see he's deeply stirred, And Myrtle when he says, "Gum-wowd!" Knows what he's saying, every word.

And his two brothers look at him, And you can see love in their eyes; In all the world there's only Jim, And he is wonderfully wise! And he looks up with manner grand And tells them sternly: "Guggle-gloo," And you can bet they understand, And that they go and do it, too. —Jud Lewis in the Houston Post.

Preacher of Faith.

He sat on a little pulpit That was made of a twig of a tree, And he preached us the happiest sermon, That bubbled with sunshine and glee,

His text was blue sky burning In the glory of all its sweet, And his throne was the beauty of heaven.

That lies at our very feet.

He was dressed in the softest feathers, And he sang as well as he spoke; And in all seasons and weathers, His duty was lifting the yoke; Yes, lifting the yoke of our troubles With the cheer of his comforting word—

This preacher of faith from the bushes Had stationed the bird.

The Reverend Dominic Robin, Apostle to me, and to all, Of the golden gospel of beauty The same as taught by St. Paul; The gospel of cleanly living, Of faith and trust and cheer, Gentle and true and forgiving, With nothing to doubt or to fear. —Benztown Bard, in Baltimore Sun.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Drink lots of water

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism, bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

DISCUSS AFTER-WAR PROBLEMS

New York, Jan. 22.—The important economic and military problems confronting the American people during and at the close of the European war are to form the leading topics of discussion at the seventeenth annual meeting of the National Civic Federation, which convened at the Hotel Astor today and will continue in session over tomorrow. The meeting has brought together a large number of men and women who have won prominence by their devotion to the public welfare or their leadership in various lines of endeavor. Among those scheduled to present reports or addresses to the meeting are Alton B. Parker, John Hays Hammond, Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks, Samuel

Clement D. Gates & Co.A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If peevish, feverish and sick, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

City Physicians Explain Why They Prescribe Nuxated Iron

To Make Beautiful, Healthy Women and Strong Vigorous Men

NOW BEING USED BY OVER THREE MILLION PEOPLE ANNUALLY

Quickly transforms the flabby flesh, toneless tissues, and pallid cheeks of weak, anaemic men and women into a perfect glow of health and beauty—Often Increases the strength of delicate, nervous, run-down folks 200 per cent in two weeks' time.

New York, N. Y.—It is conservatively estimated that over three million people annually take Nuxated Iron. Such astonishing results have been reported from its use both by doctors and laymen, that a number of physicians in various parts of the country have been asked to explain why they prescribe it so extensively, and why it apparently produces much better results than were obtained from the old forms of inorganic iron.

Extracts from some of the letters received are given below:

Dr. King, New York physician and author says, "There can be no vigorous iron men without iron."

Dr. James means anaemia.

Anaemia means iron deficiency. The skin of anaemic men and women is pale, the flesh flabby. The muscles lack tone, the brain fogs and the memory fails and they often become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent and melancholy. When the iron goes from the blood of women, the roses go from their cheeks.

In the most common foods of America, the staple sugars, table salts, molasses, oil, lard, rice, bread, soda crackers, biscuits, macaroni, spaghetti, tapioca, sago, farina, degerminated corn-meal, no longer is iron to be found. Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth from these impov- erished foods and still more from home cooking. Try this: drain down the water-pipe water in which our vegetables are cooked; is responsible for another grave iron loss.

Therefore, if you wish to preserve your youthful vim and vigor to a ripe old age, you must supply the iron deficiency by using some form of organic iron, just as you would use salt when your food has not enough salt.

Dr. V. Von Unruh, Medical Director in the New York City Clinic said, "I have given Nuxated Iron a fair and prolonged trial. I have been more than pleased with results and will continue its use."

Dr. Sauer, a Boston physician who has studied both in this country and in the European Medical Institutions, says, "As I have said a hundred times organic iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only throw away patent medicines and nauseous conco-tion and take Nuxated Iron, I am convinced that the lives of thousands of persons might be saved, who die every year from pneumonia, grippe, consumption, kidney, liver and heart trouble, etc. The real and rare cause which started their disease was nothing more nor less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood."

Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with a blood pressure of a boy of 20 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man: indeed at your man's age he was not half his age. The secret, as far as taking iron-nuxated iron had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in bad health; at 46 he was careworn and nearly all in—now at 50 after taking Nuxated Iron a man of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of health.

Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become pale and sickly-looking, just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron.

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without tiredness. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times a day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Many dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while double their strength and endurance entirely rid themselves of all symptoms of organic trouble in ten from fourteen days' time, simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of refined iron—needle, or tincture, or such simply to save a few cents. The iron demanded by Mother Nature for the red coloring matter in the blood of her children is, alas, not that kind of iron. You must take iron in a form that can easily be absorbed and assimilated by the body, and it is far more potent and effective than useless. Many an athlete and prize fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray; while many

NOTE—Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not one of a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians. It is a product of the United States, the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach, on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in nuxated iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron, and increase their strength 200 per cent or even four times in a short period. They have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

The manufacturers have such great confidence in nuxated iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron, and increase their strength 200 per cent or even four times in a short period. They have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.
